Passenger Traffic Jumps 5% in June at Detroit Metropolitan Airport

--YTD traffic down less than one percent—cargo soars

Total passenger traffic at Detroit Metropolitan Airport jumped five percent in June 2010 when compared to June 2009 according to data released today by the Wayne County Airport Authority's Division of Financial Planning and Analysis. Leading the way were international passengers with an increase of 27.3% over the previous June.

"While other carriers have also made gains, Delta Air Lines' new long-haul service to Hong Kong, Seoul and Honolulu, which began in June, as well as expanded service to Shanghai are primarily driving these numbers," said Genelle Allen, Interim CEO, Wayne County Airport Authority.

The strong June showing of 2,976,230 total passengers pulled year-to-date numbers for the first half of 2010 to within one percent of last year's first half.

"Growth in passenger traffic at Detroit Metropolitan Airport for two consecutive months is good economic news," said Wayne County Executive Robert Ficano. "Even more encouraging is the dramatic increase in international traffic as our region seeks to continue expanding its strengths in the global marketplace."

Cargo by weight grew 33.9% in June and 16.2% for the first half of 2010. Aircraft landings and take-offs showed a 6.5% increase for June and a 1.2% increase year-to-date.
